something in regard to Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I consider them a godsend, and I myself fail to find words to express my gratitude for such a remedy. Many times when it seemed the pain was too great to go on the platform, I found them a sweet relief. I have used

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for ten years and will always tell of their benefit to others.

Rev. R. M. Bentley, Lecturer, Shelbyville, Ind.
Persons who are easily excited and subject to nervous spells or headache after attending church, the theatre or some social gathering, will find Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills a true friend in time of need. Carry one or two tablets in your purse or pocket and take them as needed.

At all druggists—if the first box fails to benefit, your money is returned.

LAI'D TO REST.

The remains of Luther Burkhardt, who was killed Tuesday of last week by a tree falling on him, were laid to rest in the city cemetery Wednesday afternoon attended by numerous friends and relatives. The funeral was held in the Baptist church and a very feeling sermon was preached by Rev. L. A. Hurst. The young man had given his heart to Christ some months before death.

A brother of Mr. Burkhardt, and his wife arrived Wednesday to attend the funeral. They returned to their home in Knoxville Friday. The brother, Jas. L. Burkhardt, has been an engineer on the L. & N. railroad for 18 years and is a highly respected man and citizen. L. G. Bugg and wife, of Monterey, also came for the funeral. They returned home Friday also.

The circumstances under which the young man was killed were peculiar. There were five men cutting and peeling tan bark. They had cut a tree and that had been supporting a live tree. The fallen tree was almost peeled and Luther Burkhardt and Will Barnwell were setting the bark up against the log for it to dry. Suddenly Barnwell noticed the leaning tree begin to fall and as he did not have time to get away he threw himself on the ground by the side of the peeled log, thus saving his own life. Luther Burkhardt attempted to cross the peeled log and the falling tree caught his body across the log angling of his body from near the waist line down. The men were unable to lift the log and had to saw it in two. The boy talked some while the log was on his body, but as soon as it was removed became unconscious and died in a short time.

SEEING AMERICA.

Trans-Atlantic steamship owners figure that the European war will save $275,000,000 to the American people by shutting off tourist travel. The tourist will enjoy superior scenery and get the benefit of more healthful outings without carrying to foreign countries a quarter of a billion dollars of money needed by American enterprise. In effect, it is an application of the principle laid down by Abraham Lincoln in his discussion of the tariff—that if we buy goods abroad, we get the goods and the foreigner gets the money, while if we buy at home, we have both the goods and the money. American tourists will get both health and pleasure, and American will keep the $275,000,000.
